DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed May 50, 2007 with respect to the effective filing date of the applicant's present application of March 28, 2002 which is before the Gotoh U.S. filing date of October 4, 2002 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejections of claims 1 to 3, 7 to 9 and 13 to 16 under Gotoh et al. have been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground of rejection is made in view of Osumi (JP 2001-281456).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

3. Claims 1, 7, 8, 13, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Osumi (JP 2001-281456).

Osumi shows a light emitting panel (14, figure 2) comprising a front wall (14B), a rear wall (14C) situated opposite to the front wall, a first edge surface (14A) being light transmitted, a second edge surface (14F) opposite the first edge surface such that the second edge surface is reflecting with respect to light inside the panel, the surface of the second edge surface having a specularly or diffusely reflecting material (17), at least a first light source (15) associated with the first edge surface, the light source comprising at least two light emitting diodes with different light emission wavelengths (15A, 15B), light originating from the first light source incident on the first edge surface and distributed in the panel, the panel widens over a widening section from the first edge surface in a direction towards the second edge surface (figure 2A and 2B), the rear wall provided over the widening section with a plurality of steps (14E) of which a surface facing the front wall is substantially parallel to the front wall, a further surface (14D) of the steps making an angle ( $\theta_1$ ) of 45 degrees with respect to a normal on the front wall which is within the range of  $48 < \beta < -48$ , and a display device comprising a liquid crystal display (LCD 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2885

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osumi (JP 2001-281456) in view of Lammers (prior art previously cited).

Osumi discloses the invention substantially as claimed with the exception of having the front wall provided with a translucent diffuser.

Lammers teaches that it is known in the art to have the front wall provided with a translucent diffuser.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the front wall of Osumi with a translucent diffuser, as shown by Lammers, to diffuse and uniform the light coupled out from wall.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osumi (JP 2001-281456) in view of Lammers (prior art previously cited).

Osumi discloses the invention substantially as claimed with the exception of having the light emitting diode at least 5 lm.

Lammers teaches that it is known in the art to use light emitting diode having at least 5 lm (column 9, lines 2 to 3) in light emitting panel display device.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the light emitting diode of Osumi with at least 5 lm, as shown by Lammers, for the advantage of enabling the light to be coupled into the light emitting panel with a higher efficiency, hardly emitting heat as well as issuing detrimental radiation, and to overall provide a compact illumination system.

5. Claims 2, 3, 10 to 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 17 to 20 are allowed.
